EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

I am a registered Psychologist with forensic endorsement by the Psychology Board of Australia. I have been employed within community and custody settings in the public sector for over 18 years, with a focus on risk assessment and intervention. During my time with Corrective Services NSW, I specialised in the assessment and treatment of adults who have committed violent offences. I conducted assessments and provided intensive treatment to people with a complex range of comorbidities alongside with their violent offending, including serious mental illness, personality disorders, drug and alcohol addiction, sexual offending, offenders who are associated with gang affiliations, and offenders who have been highlighted within the custodial system as potentially radicalised through their religious beliefs and practices. She has experience in providing both individual and group-based treatment. I have particular interest in working with clients who have experienced complex trauma. I also have private practice experience providing evidence-based individual treatment to people experiencing a range of clinical presentations including mood disorders, trauma and abuse, personality disorders, substance abuse, stress, relationship difficulties and anger management.

I have supervised Provisional Psychologists on placement during their higher degree program, and Registered Psychologists engaging in the registrar program. In my role as a Senior Psychologist I provided supervision to clinical staff, managed a therapeutic wing within a custodial centre, and provided training in the assessment and management of violent offenders.
